

About Patrizia The Sultry Lady of Jazz/Bio Summary

Patrizia Dubbed the Sultry Lady of Jazz during one of her performances, because of her naturally pure way of creating strong emotions in her listeners, a highly acclaimed Award Winning International Jazz Vocalist, Recording Artist, Composer, Producer and Artistic Director, based out of San Diego, California, gifted with a beautiful rich soulful vocal instrument, likened to Ella Fitzgerald with Billie Holiday's vibrato, possesses a 4 1/2 octave vocal range, sings in over six languages including English, Spanish and Italian, presenting some of the best Jazz and Blues Vocals around, best known for her heartfelt, sultry renditions of Jazz and Blues Standards, as well as her stylish upbeat interpretations of Swing, Bebop, Latin Jazz, and her own original compositions.

Her latest concert Portrait Of Ella was a tribute celebration the Legendary Ella Fitzgerald, Tonight Is Just A Memory, A Christmas Night, The Essential Jazz Tribute, and A Jazz Story. Winner of the Best Jazz Vocalist Award for the past 3 years, when she is not performing across the globe, she spends hours practicing her craft and composing new compositions. She has performed and collaborated with numerous notable musicians, including but not limited to James Moody, Kenny Burrell, Daniel Jackson, Eric Gunnison, Joe Keel, Ron Levy, Paul Tye, Richard James, Nat Yarbrough and Jeff Denson. Her tour schedule has included, numerous states in the US, Europe, Japan and Canada, an exciting gifted vocalist, an evening listing to her sing is a gift.

Her latest album "All The Things You Are" has received rave reviews, continuing to be on the best seller list and was voted a collectors item in 2013.